

Dr.-Ing. Dóra Drexler

Training

- 2014-2017 MSc at the Szent István University in Phytopathology
- 2005-2010 PhD at the Technical University of Munich, Department of Landscape Ecology
- 1999-2004 Diploma degree (MSc) in Landscape Architecture, specialization in Landscape Planning from the Faculty of Landscape Architecture, Protection and Development of the University of Horticulture (now Corvinus University of Budapest)
- 2001-2002 Exchange student at the Faculty of Landscape Architecture and Landscape Planning of the Technical University in Munich at the branch of Environmental Planning

Professional career

- 2014 Vice-president of the Technology and Innovation Platform of IFOAM (TIPI)
- 2013 Honorary Associate Professor of the University of Debrecen, Chair of the External Department of Agrobiodiversity and Organic Farming
- 2011- Director of the Hungarian Research Institute of Organic Agriculture, ÖMKI
- 2010 Research Associate of the Swiss Research Institute of Organic Agriculture, FiBL

International projects

- 2015-2020 DIVERSIFOOD – Enriching the diversity of cultivated plants through a multi-actor approach, Horizon 2020 Research Project (www.diversifood.eu)
- 2015-2019 OK-Net Arable – Organic Knowledge Network Arable, for more knowledge exchange in organic farming, Horizon 2020 Cooperation Project (www.ok-net-arable.eu)
- 2013-2018 HealthyMinorCereals – An integrated approach to diversify the genetic base, improve stress resistance, agronomic management and nutritional/processing quality of minor cereal crops for human nutrition in Europe FP7 Research Project (www.healthyminorcereals.eu)
- 2013-2015 Leonardo da Vinci OFEOF – On-farm education towards organic farmers (<http://omki.org/farm-trials-education-organic-farms>)
- 2010- Coordinator of the “Advancing Organic Agriculture Research in Hungary” project of FiBL Switzerland (www.omki.org)
- 2007-2010 Initiator and coordinator of the Ethnic Landscape Studies International Working Group (ETHLAS) for the comparative research of ethnic landscape perceptions and regional development possibilities on local scale (<http://ethnicscapes.wordpress.com>)
- 2005-2008 COST Action E33 “Forest Recreation and Nature Tourism – FORREC” of the European Science Foundation (<http://www.openspace.eca.ac.uk/coste33/welcome.htm>)
- 2005-2009 Initiator and coordinator of the transnational Firtos Project on the regional development of the Firtos micro-region in Transylvania, Romania (with Prof. Dr. Ludwig Trepl, Prof. Dr. Attila Csemez, Dr. Johannes Gnädinger, Dr. Ágnes Sallay, Dipl.-Ing. Thomas Heinemann) A project of the DAAD
- 2004-2005 INTERREG III.B CADSES Landscape Opportunities for Territorial Organization – LOTO Project

Teaching

- 2008-2009 Lecturer at the Technical University of Munich, Department of Landscape Ecology.
- 2005- Invited lecturer at the Department of Landscape Planning and Regional Development of the Faculty of Landscape Architecture of the Corvinus University of Budapest.
- 2007 Co-supervisor of the students' competition work of Fruzsina Zelenák at the Corvinus University of Budapest (with Dr. Ágnes Sallay), 1st Prize of the Architecture Section of the Hungarian National Scientific Student Conference.
- 2005-2007 Non-salaried lecturer at the Technical University of Munich, Department of Landscape Ecology.

2005-2009 Supervisor and co-supervisor of diploma theses and several project work of German and Hungarian students in the eighth to tenth semesters in landscape theory and landscape planning

Grants and prizes

2015 Péter Sárközy Prize for the development of Hungarian Organic Agriculture
2006-2009 Research Scholarship of the Free State of Bavaria (BAYHOST)
2005 Scholarship of the German Federal Foundation of Environment (DBU)
2004 Diploma-Prize of the Hungarian Chamber of Architecture, Section for Landscape and Garden Architecture
2003 Grant for Ecological Sciences of the Hungarian Ministry of Environmental Protection and Water Conservancy
2001-2002 Grant of the German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD)
2000-2004 Grant of the Hungarian Republic for excellent university studies

Memberships

2010- Member of the European Society for Environmental History (www.eseh.org)
2009- Member of the Landscape Research Group established to advance education and research in the field of landscape (<http://landscaperesearch.org>)
2006- Member of the Landscape Education: New Opportunities for Teaching and Research in Europe (LE:NOTRE) Project of the European Union. Contact person of the Technical University of Munich (till 2009)
2004- Member of the Permanent Conference on the Study of the Rural Landscape Network (PECSRL) (www.pecsrl.org)
2003-2006 Member of the Bolyai Workshop for Talented Young Students (BOM) (www.bolyaimuhely.hu)

Languages

Hungarian Mother Tongue
English Excellent. Regularly presents and publishes in English. Cambridge Certificate of Proficiency in English (1998)
German Excellent. Studied, presents, and publishes in German. Medium language degree of the Hungarian State in German (1998)
French Basic skills in spoken and written French.

Budapest, July 3, 2017

Dóra Drexler
dora.drexler@biokutatas.hu